Head Teacher to Home – 17th June
What has happened in school this week?

Welcome to our weekly newsletter.

This week has been yet another busy one, the children have been able to enjoy lots of outdoor learning thanks to the weather. Today all of the children have been given a book to celebrate the Queen's Platinum Jubilee, these were sent to all primary age children across the country and are from the British Government.

Drew and Darwin class got to enjoy their Film prize from the PTFA yesterday, thank you to those members of the PTFA that arranged and supervised this.

EXCITING NEWS!

I am extremely excited to announce some fantastic news for Lillington.

I have been working hard over the last couple of years to recover the financial situation at Lillington, in order to do this, it has meant that I have had no senior members of staff to support me in the role of Head

Teacher and to build capacity within Senior leadership. We are now finally in a place where we are able to appoint 2 Assistant Heads from September, these roles will be extremely valuable to not just me but also to the school and its continued journey of improvement.

On Monday interviews were held with internal candidates. This process was extremely rigorous and was conducted by myself, Mr Bailie (Executive Head of the Trust), Mrs Coopey (Chair of Governors), Mr Fitzhugh (Deputy Head at Finham Primary) and Mrs O'Toole (Primary Support and Innovation Lead for FPMAT).

I am pleased to announce that both Mr Holt and Mrs Radcliffe were successful in being appointed as the new Assistant Heads at Lillington. Mr Holt will be responsible for Key stage 2 and Mrs Radcliffe EYFS and Key Stage 1, however they will of course work as a team to support me in the day to day running of the school.

Both teachers will still be classed based and so will have classes next year with some additional leadership release time in order to fulfil their new roles.

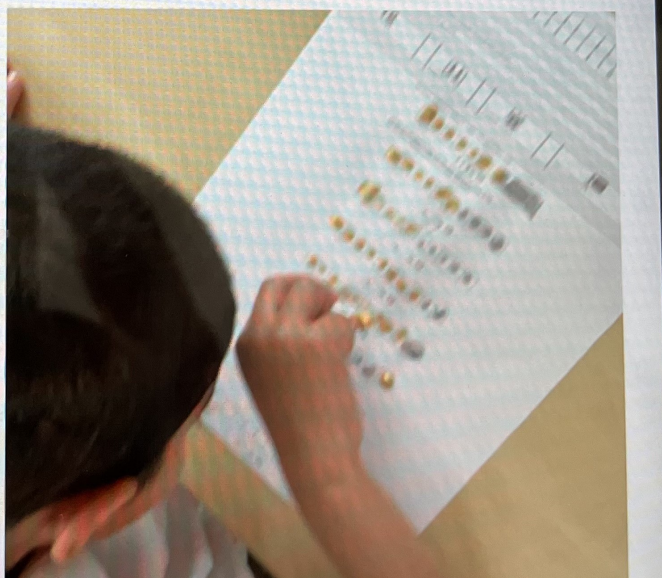

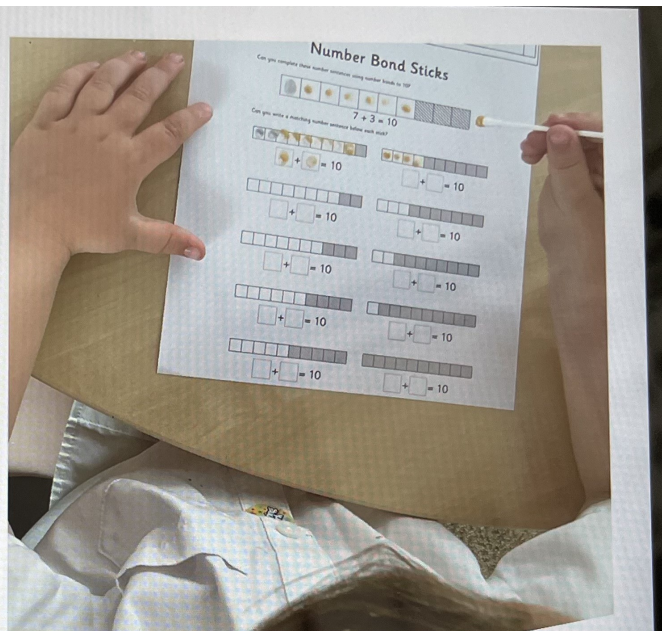

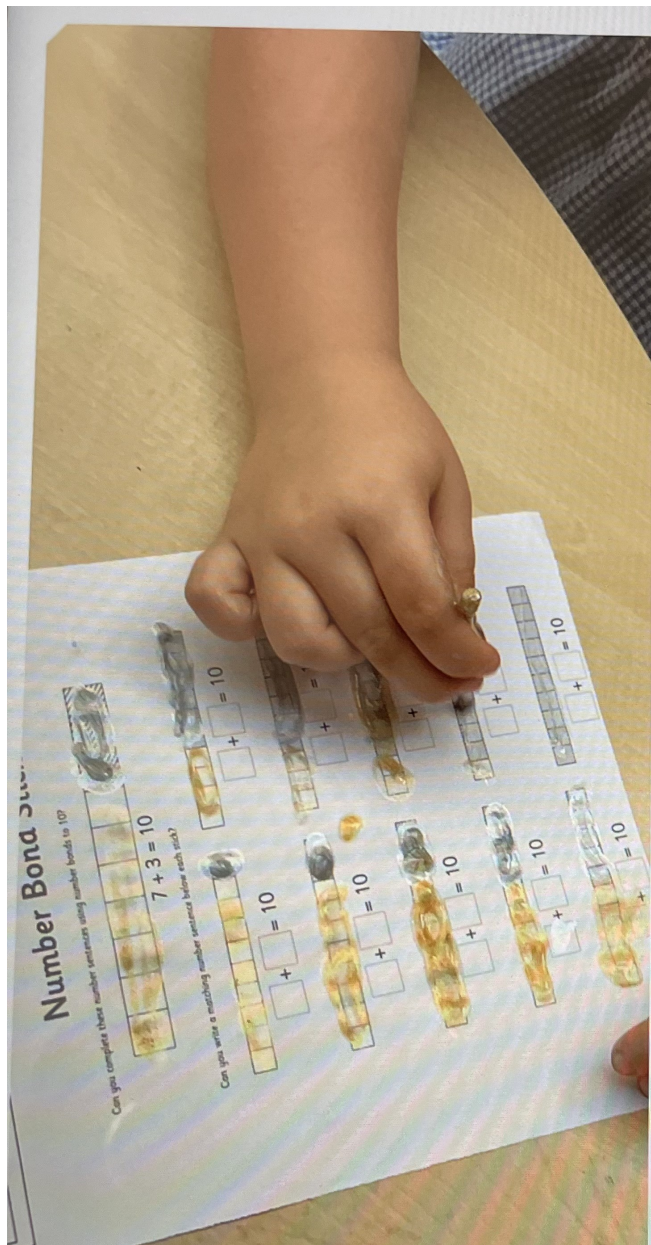

I hope you will join me in congratulating them on this great news.

This week Drew tried their hand at Roman mosaics. They started off by studying ancient mosaics before thinking about some authentic colours and shapes they could incorporate into their own artwork.

Hopper enjoyed making Libum (Roman Cheesecake) this week, despite it being quite smelly to start with! We explored different adjectives to describe the mixture at different points and the children are in the process of writing their own instructions to make it.

As part of our 'Frozen Kingdom' topic, the children in Angelou have currently been learning about frozen oceans, glaciers and icebergs. After exploring these in more detail, the children showed huge interest in sketching an incredibly detailed and challenging image of the Titanic, just before its impact with that fateful iceberg. As you can clearly see, countless skills were showcased by the class and they are now ready to add watercolours for effect!
