Head Teacher to Home — 3rd March What has happened in school this week?

Welcome to this week's newsletter.

It's been a busy start to the half term with lots of exciting events and learning activities happening. Have a look at the photos to see children from Nursery to Year 6 in action.

World Book Day was on Thursday and it was amazing to see the costumes that children came in. We had characters from a huge range of texts – it was brilliant! All children should have come home with a book token. Children can swap their tokens for one of ten books, specially written for World Book Day, or the tokens can be used to get £1 off another book. Most bookshops around the UK accept the book tokens.

Year 3 and 4 have visited Oxford University Museum of Natural History today as part of their Rocks, Relics and Rumbles topic. At the museum, the children had the chance to see a range of fossils, skeletons, rocks and stones from different natural sources.

Our assemblies have focused on this month's value (respect) and how if everyone is respectful, we'll all be happier in school and the community. Classrooms where mutual respect is evident have more learning because children feel safer, more motivated and, of course, respected.

The year 5 and 6 football team have their first match of the season today – good luck! We'll have a brief report in the newsletter next week.

Enjoy your weekend and see you all on Monday.

What has happened in school this week?

Such a busy first week back in Reception this week. We started the week learning about Shrove Tuesday, then made and ate pancakes. Then we went for a walk to look for signs of spring and found some lovely spring flowers. We have been making 6 and 7 in different ways and then ended the week with a great world book day.

Well done Reception!

This week, Drew class have been reading and internalising a new poem called The Fire Monster. They started the week off by having a go at their own poem to see what they could remember about the genre, before reading and text mapping their new model text. So far we are really enjoying reading it aloud!

Over the past two weeks, the children in Angelou have been researching and discussing the key changes that occur during the process of puberty. They worked together to sort a range of true and false statements for both boys and girls using Venn diagrams before sharing their findings with the rest of the class.

Children in King Class have planned their biographies this week. They had to choose an important historical figure, find out about their life and then organise their research into the correct format. Here are some pictures of them writing up their biographies. They've written about William Shakespeare, Maya Angelou, Isaac Newton, Florence Nightingale and many others.

Lillington PTFA General Meeting

The PTFA is registering with the Charity Commission. Before we do this, we need to reword some of our Objectives in our Constitution to be acceptable to them. It won't change what we do or what we fund. In fact, it will mean that we will be able to apply for grants that we aren't currently eligible for.

To change the wording, we need to hold a General Meeting which all parents, carers and school staff are eligible to attend. In fact, we need as many people to attend it as possible to make sure there are enough of us to meet the minimum number required to agree the changes.

The General Meeting will be on Tuesday 14th March at 7pm. It will be online...zoom link below...and should last for about 15 minutes, so shouldn't take up too much of anyone's time. Please join us if you can!
